FOREWORD

The Senior Class presents this, the 1948 volume of the Epitome to the one who will open it and find in its contents a beloved or delightful memory.

It is with regret that we leave our places as Student Nurses of James Walker, but with enthusiasm and confidence that we take our places in the nursing profession.

We leave with you this annual, a synopsis of three years we have strived for that cherished title, "R.N."

CARMELLE WATKINS, Editor.

JAMES WALKER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

NEW WING BUILT IN 1943

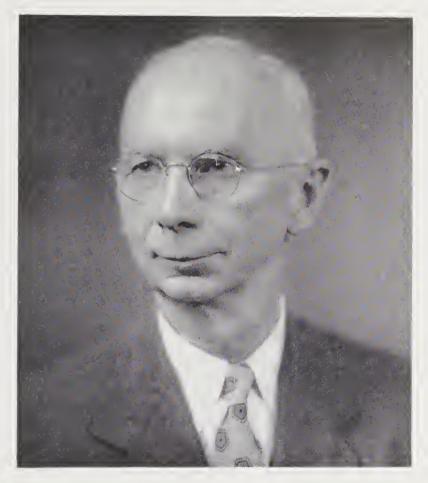

THE NIGHTINGALE PLEDGE

I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully, I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to elevate the standards of my profession, and I will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping, and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my profession. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work, and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care.

Lystra Gretter, R.N. 1893.

In Beloved Memory

DR. JOHN E. EVANS

He was a friend whose heart was good;
Who walked with men and understood;
His was a voice that spoke to cheer,
And fell like music on the ear.
His was a smile men loved to see;
His was a hand that asked no fee
For friendliness or kindness done.
And now that he has journeyed on,
His is a fame that never ends;
He leaves behind uncounted friends.

HISTORY OF JAMES WALKER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The first brick was laid for James Walker Hospital May 22, 1900. The building was donated and erected by James Walker, a native of Douglas, Lanarkshire, Scotland, April 29, 1826. These words are inscribed on his tomb: "After a frugal and industrial life James Walker left to the afflicted and suffering a lasting memorial of his beneficence in yonder hospital which bears his honored name."

He donated this hospital with the understanding that its management would never enter into politics, that no member of the board of managers could be appointed from either city or county government and that the city and county would guarantee to appropriate at all times sufficient funds to provide adequately for the care of the indigent sick.

James Walker, the constructor of the hospital, died March 15, 1901, before the building was completed June 1, 1901. The first superintendent of the hospital was Dr. Thomas R. Little. The original building completely furnished for 50 patients still stands and is part of the hospital. Additions have been made to this building as the years have passed. Mr. W. H. Sprunt saw and realized the necessity of caring for the Negro in this city and county, and as a donation built a separate building for the care of these patients. This contained a ward with 52 beds and a dispensary on the first floor, and until 1921 the second floor was used for the nurses' quarters. While it was not the intention of the hospital to receive patients with infectious diseases, such cases have to be cared for in certain instances, so Mr. Sam Bear, Jr., donated a separate building for these patients as a memorial to his brother in 1915. The third addition to the hospital was made by a generous benefaction of Mr. and Mrs. James Sprunt in 1917, who built as a memorial to their only daughter, Marion, an annex devoted to the care of maternity patients and children. This annex bears the name of Marion Sprunt. A new wing was added to the hospital in 1937, which increased the capacity of the beds to 188.

In 1943 the Federal government aided James Walker Memorial Hospital in the construction of an additional building. The administrative offices were moved to this new building from the original building in the early part of 1944. In this new building 120 patients may be cared for making James Walker Memorial Hospital a 300 bed hospital, exclusive of bassinettes. In the basement of the building is a separate dispensary for the treatment of white and Negro patients, a modern well equipped laboratory, drug room, and a morgue with equipment for the performance of autopsies. A new unit for isolated cases is on the first floor and will accommodate ten patients at one time. The second and third floors are used for ward and private room female patients.

In memory of Dr. A. D. McClure, of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, the city of Wilmington donated $100,000 to build a modern nurses home to accommodate 50 nurses in 1921. It was necessary for the home to be enlarged in 1926, 1937 and 1943.

A charter was granted the James Walker Memorial Hospital on February 5, 1903 to organize and maintain a school for nurses. The first superintendent was Miss Lilly Heller (Mrs. Thomas R. Little), of Greensboro, N. C., and the first graduating class was composed of Miss Florence Hayes (Mrs. Morris Caldwell) of Wilmington, and Miss Alberta Robinson of Dunn.

The James Walker Memorial Nursing School is an accredited school and is one of the largest nursing schools in North Carolina.

Ernestine Howard,

Hospital Historian.

OUR GOAL

The function of the hospital in modern society is to assist in the task of conserving our greatest economic asset, the health of the nation. It also has obligation of training young women for citizenship and for the profession of nursing. Medical science has made amazing progress in its study of human disease and its treatment; no one would contend that medical science has completed this task.

During the next decade great emphasis will be placed on nursing service measured by social needs; therefore, in the attempt of the general hospital to educate the young women of today for their role of tomorrow, it is also imperative that a proper understanding of the social conditions of the world be made an integral part of such an education.

If you believe that the happiest people on earth are those whose ambitions find a daily challenge to serve their fellowmen, and if you are convinced that you have the moral character, the intelligence and the never ceasing interest in serving others, let me wish for you a career of service dominated by your own perseverance to make happy someone who is sick or someone unable to help himself.

IN APPRECIATION TO OUR LEADERS

At this time we wish to acknowledge our most sincere appreciation for all the kindness and guidance which has been bestowed upon us during our stay at James Walker.

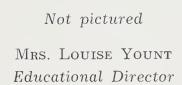

Your faithfulness has strengthened us and thus prepared us to meet the future with heads high, and the assurance of making a success of our undertakings. We shall endeavor to live up to standards taught us; to your expectations; and strive to make the better best. Leaving you we take with us a gained knowledge, security, and glory in having accomplished our goal. Always we will be indebted to James Walker and its Nursing School.

THE NURSE

The world grows better year by year, Because some nurse in her sphere Puts on her apron and grins and sings And keeps on doing the same old things. Taking the temperatures, giving the pills, To remedy mankind's numberless ills, Feeding the baby, answering the bells Being polite with a heart that rebels. Longing for home and all the while Wearing the same old professional smile, Blessing the new born babe's first breath, Closing the eyes that are still in death. Taking the blame for the doctor's mistakes, Oh dear, what a lot of patience it takes, Going off duty at seven o'clock, Tired, discouraged and ready to drop. But called back on special at seven-fifteen, With woe in her heart, but it must not be seen Morning and evening, and noon and night, Just doing it over and hoping it's right. When we lay down our caps and cross the bar, Oh Lord, will you give us just one little star, To wear in our crowns and uniforms new, In that city above where the Head Nurse is YOU.

CLASS POEM

Golly peep! It's time to go!

Which ah way, we just don't know!

It's like pulling teeth or missing church,

Sure does leave us so berserk,

To know we gotta hit the trail

Or by a ticket and go by rail

To each her own secluded way

And from your portals forever stay.

It's been so wonderful and so much fun

To keep some people on the run

Yet be on duty at ten of time

And help somebody who needs the kind

Of care which has been so willingly taught to us—

It makes us just wanta fuss,

But every minute has been a new adventure

Exciting, stimulating, and a mixture of smiles, cries, laughs, and tears

Which has made these last three

The very best years.

EVELYN WHITFIELD, Class Poet.

CLASS HISTORY

Three caps!! It didn't take us long to distinguish between the three. We learned the first to reach for was the plain white one.

We decided that while we worked for all this, there was plenty of fun awaiting us.

We were not such a bad class, but we always would make pie-beds for the wrong people, ride up and down the halls in laundry baskets, and one would think we were never taught to go to bed. Outside of all the heavy studying, we had many interesting family histories to go over time and time again.

How proud we were when we were asked to be in charge of the Christmas pageant. We fixed the stage, we dressed the tree, and the program couldn't have been better. It was such a nice program and we enjoyed working on it very much.

There is a certain feeling in store for every girl when she first gets her cap and bib. Our feelings were mutual.

In our junior year we were settled enough to think about class officers. Our President "Lib" Ashworth could have been no other. Dr. Hare and Miss Fowler were selected as class sponsors! They have been wonderful. Another important event of the year was our Junior and Senior Banquet and dance.

Things like these will stay in our memory for quite a long time. We had three men at our banquet, but oh! it was fun! We were a little different from the preceding classes, we had our banquet and dance on two separate nights. Both were thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

One day we noticed a sign on the bulletin board. The Superintendent of Nurses wanted a personal interview with every member of the class of '48. What had we done? We didn't know either, but much to our pleasant surprise we received our Senior Bands. Our heads were heavy (with the bands that is). We all fully realized our responsibilities were increasing all the time.

Our minds worked over time for any new ideas for our annual. One of our greatest desires was to have one of the best ever to prove our gratitude and respect to our Alma Mater. Raffling cakes was one of our old standbys for making money, and we made full use of it too.

Parting was such sweet sorrow, it took all the backbone we had, but since we knew the best was yet in store it was a little easier.

We extend our most grateful appreciation to every one who helped make our road smooth and encouraged us on when home was so tempting.

There's plenty more, but why go on. I hear the Bell's of the future chiming, "Come one, Come all," so come dear classmates we've made the best of it. Here's to our future.

Winifred Quinn,
Class Historian.

CLASS PROPHECY

February 6
Some years later

DEAR MARY:

While looking over some newspaper clippings that I've saved since we graduated from James Walker a few years ago, I thought you might like to know what has happened to some of our classmates, so I decided to write this letter.

Here is a recent clipping: "Elizabeth Ashworth has accepted the position as college nurse at Montreat." I guess she and Marjorie Isenhower will see a lot of each other now that "Ike" is a supervisor of the maternity ward at Hickory Hospital, which isn't far from Montreat.

While shopping down town one day last week I met Mary Taylor who has been Dr. Robertson's private scrub nurse in the operating room since completing her post-graduate course a year ago. She told me that Sarah Ballard, Allison Bennett, Dorothy High, and Frances Griffin were doing industrial nursing in Chicago, and enjoying the "Night Life" there immensely.

Here is another clipping I've had a few weeks: "Ozelle Mallard has accepted the position as Director of Nursing Education at the Los Angeles General Hospital."

Last week I was over on Marion Sprunt to see Mazelle Guyton who has a little "Floyd Jr." and who should be Supervisor of Marion Sprunt but Ruby Henry! Joyce Andrews is doing general duty in the nursery and Norma Dawson has taken V.D.P.'s place as supervisor of Contagion, Ward B, Colored Ward, and Emergency. She must give the students a rough time when they are assigned to her floors.

Carmelle Watkins, Winifred Quinn, and Winifred Bell are in Miami Beach, Florida. Carmelle is doing Public Health Nursing and the two "Winnies" are doing private duty. Looks like they'll stick together as they did in training.

Muriel Jackson and Eleanor Johnson are working in Fayetteville at Highsmith's. Jackson is Supervisor of the Maternity Ward and Johnnie is doing private duty. I guess Johnnie will be going to Pennsylvania soon to marry Don.

I saw Dot Peacock at Carolina Beach last summer with her same gang from Fremont. She has been working with the home town Doctor since leaving here. Guess you remember how hard it use to be for her to stay away from "Moms" when she was at James Walker.

Julia White and Leroy were married Christmas. She went to California after finishing training and waited for him to finish college.

Marie Winberry and Jack were married shortly after she finished training. She told me the other day that Ernestine Howard was teaching Nursing Arts at Watts Hospital in Durham, and that Agnes Norris is doing General Duty on S. W. 2 here.

Guess who I heard singing on the radio the other day? Jacqueline Bussey! She's in New York now and has given up nursing for singing—strictly opera. I always thought her voice would take her places.

Edith Holton and Mary Harrell are working in Buffalo, New York. They married marines they met while in training.

Gilda and Gloria Whitfield are back at James Walker after working in Charlotte. Seems that they are still the wondering type.

I guess you knew that Evelyn Price and I are next door neighbors at Princess Place? She, Ferd, Robert and I are planning a trip to Florida soon. Frances Sholar and Pauline Wray came to visit us while on their vacation last July. Both are working in New York modeling nurses uniforms. They are the same old two-timing heartbreakers. They said Evelyn Whitfield was an airline hostess from New York to Florida. You know she always did make big air castles.

Peggy Summerlin is home on vacation. She has been teaching Professional Adjustments at the University of Maryland.

Well Mary, this covers about everybody I think. We wouldn't have believed this a few years back, would we? I'll have to close now, Robert, Jr., is crying. Write and tell me all about yourself.

Always, Ann Swain (Hahn).

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

December 1947.

North Carolina, New Hanover County, Wilmington, N. C.

We the Senior Class of James Walker Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, being of supposedly sound body and mind, contrary to popular opinion, do individually and collectively, will and bequest our most highy prized possession to members of the incoming Senior Class.

Article I: To the Doctors, our thanks for their patience and understanding through our days of curosity, bewilderment and anxiousness to learn.

Article II: To Miss Britt, we leave our sincere appreciation for helping and guiding us through the past three years.

Article III: Mazelle Guyton wills her ability to ask questions to Laura Taylor.

Marie Winberry wills her long hair to Ellen Carr.

Carmelle Watkins wills her "business-like-manner" to Hilda Hearn.

Norma Dawson wills with relief her place in the Colored Ward to Hazel White.

Evelyn Whitfield and Mary Taylor wills "Our Love" for surgery to Rebecca Dillinger.

Peggy Summerlin leaves her "peace with all" manner to Joyce Hall.

Muriel Jackson and Eleanor Johnson will their love for dancing to Lillian Adams.

Annie Laurie Swain and Evelyn Price wills their faithfulness to one man to Evelyn Page.

Dorothy High and Allison Bennett wills with pleasure their persistent 3-11 duty to Eleanor Reese.

Sara Ballard, not if she can help it, leaves George to anyone who can catch him.

Marjorie Isenhower and Dot Peacock will their ability to "get along together" to Francie Sparks and Hazel White.

The Whitfield twins will their love for Marines to Billie Ward.

Mary Harrell and Edith Holton leave their "tall slimness" to Ruth Lanier.

"Winnie" Bell and Francis Griffin leave their love for "Boats and Morehead City" to Blanche Burris.

Agnes Norris and Jacqueline Bussey leave their "Flaming Glory" to Edna Walker.

Ernestine Howard and Frances Sholar leave their "Beloved Datebooks" to Helen Bradham.

Pauline Wray and Winnie Quinn leave their "Expressions for Supervisors" to Dorothy Carroway.

"Lib" Ashworth" leaves her place as Senior Class President to Joyce Hall.

Ruby Henry and Ozelle Mallard leave their M.S. Duty to Jane Galloway.

Talitha Rose Brown leaves her "Fishing" to Hilda Coval.

Vera Burton leaves her "quiet ways" to Hilda Hearn.

I leave to all student nurses my best wishes.

JOYCE ANDREWS, Testator.

On May 25, 1947, there appeared on our steps six most likable girls from Woodard Herring Hospital in Wilson, who were seeking further knowledge in Obstetrics, Medicine, Surgery, and Dietetics. During their affiliation we found them to be trustworthy and typical student nurses. They were girls of whom any Hospital would be proud and although saddened by their departure on November 9, 1947 we are grateful for their service in our own James Walker.
